What a Brain What Mothers Got A Name Worth While The Nizam's Gold Hoard

Professor C. Judson Herrick of the University of Chicago tells the American Association for the Advancement of Science this:

Man's brain is so complicated that all figures connected with astronomy, all calculations about the number of miles that light can travel in 100,000,000 years, going at the rate of 186,000 miles a second, seem childish.

The stupendous figure one billion is indicated by writing the figure one, followed by nine zeros.

The number of individual "cerebral telephone lines," connecting the brain cells one with another, can be represented by writing the figure 1, followed by fifteen million zeros.

Each of those fifteen million zeros, as it is added, multiplies the preceding figure by ten. The human brain cannot imagine even one million. The figure quoted, a figure one, followed by fifteen million zeros, if printed, would fill thirty books of average size, each book of 350 pages.

Every one of the ten to fourteen billion nerve cells in the human brain is interconnected, and every one of them is an electric battery.

Fortunately, this earth is expected to last at least one million million years more. Men will have time to develop that unbelievably complicated brain machine.

Dr. L. S. Cottrell Jr. of the University of Chicago presents statistics proving that when the bride and groom's parents are dead, the marriage is more successful because young people are happier when they do not have to bother about the wife's mother. That is probably sound in cases where the husband is satisfied with that kind of a wife.

It should have been mentioned, but was not, that the father and mother might have had an easier life, if the girl baby now the bride hadn't arrived, keeping the mother up at night, with everything from teething to mumps.

One thing is certain, and Doctor Cottrell might mention it in his next marriage statement the mother gets from her children exactly what she gives to her own mother, no more and no less.

If the young wife schemes to keep her mother out of the way, she will find her daughter doing exactly the same thing later, and she will deserve it.

Ordinary "Christian" names, Jones, Smith, Robinson, Brown, seem prosaic compared with the more picturesque names of the noble red men, "Sitting Bull," "Rain in the Face," or "Sar-Go-Ye-Wat-Ha." Indian name of the chief "Red Jacket," meaning "he keeps them awake."

Police of Chester, Pa., discover that the Siamese have names that make the names of red men seem commonplace. One Siamese musician booked at the police station gave as his name something spelt with sixty-one letters, meaning "great mountain - wonderful strength - the bear of the lake."

Desk Sergeant John Denmark, let the man go because he, Denmark couldn't write the name or pronounce it.

The greatest individual hoarder of gold in the world is said to be an Indian potentate, the Nizam of Hyderabad, whose ancestors accumulated a fabulous gold treasure, which he has increased.

The British hope that he can be persuaded to deliver that gold to England in return for the extension of his rulership over Behar, which was formerly under his dominion and is craved by him.

If he had his hoard in the United States it would be much simpler. He would be told to bring in the gold and take nice green paper instead, and he would bring it.

Greta Garbo, young Swedish girl, came to Hollywood, earned a fortune in moving pictures. Now she buys a home in Stockholm, Sweden, and the average American says: "Why couldn't she buy herself a bungalow in Hollywood, settle there, and show gratitude to the country in which she earned her money?"

That sounds convincing, but if a young girl from Brooklyn had gone to Stockholm, made a fortune and returned to buy a house in Brooklyn, the same average American would have said:

"Good little American girl. She may make money among those Swedes, but she comes home and spends it in the good old United States. Three cheers for her."

Molly Picon, able young Jewish actress, returning from Russia, where anti-Semitism no longer exists, describes the Soviet republic as a "land of actors and tractors, all with a red flag." Russia, she says, has the finest theaters in the world and wonderful actors, but all plays are based on "Red propaganda."

"You have the feeling that, however the play started, it would certainly wind up waving a Red flag."

SUMMER SEASON OPENS WITH LIGHT OPERA

The summer season has been officially opened! The Forest Theatre gave its first performance of the year with the presentation of "Pirates of Penzance", Saturday, Sunday and Monday nights, to increasing audiences.

The attendance would probably have been greater had not the date conflicted with that of the street fair, but those who failed to see this delightful light opera on this occasion will have another opportunity on Labor Day.

Nothing but praise is heard of the production and Carmel is proud of their accomplishment. The following are deserving of great praise:

Kathleen Murphy, as the prima donna; Lucian Jones, male juvenile; Rosalyn Jones, major general; R. A. Kocher, Anna Marie Baer, David Matzke, Edwin Pinkham, Peggy Cooper, Marie de Riemer, Menno L. Scholten.

Edward Ballam, John Chadwick, Paul W. Day, Roger Fulton, Joseph Garcia, Cecil Haskell, Henry Horton, Harold Neubauer, Jack Morrison, Maxwell Sears, Lloyd Weer, W. B. Williams.

Noble L. Barter, Stewart Jones, Charles T. Lillard, Hal E. McCormack, Jr., Allison Shoemaker, Hal Stone, Alfred Tiffany, Paul Thomas, Gilbert Winters, Verne C. Williams.

Peggy Anderson, Verna Lillard, Jane Matzke, Pauline Meeks, Ethel Merriam, Glenna Peck, Julia Platt, Theda Shoemaker, Holly Smith, Leslie Tooker, Gene Wright and Katherine Yaw.

With Arthur Gunderson as head of the music, there could be no doubt of its quality. Victor Kerney as stage director also aided in giving the professional touch.

STREET FAIR COMMITTEE EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

In behalf of the executive committee of the Carmel Street Fair, Mrs. Frances Turner Daniels, chairman, through the columns of Carmel Sun, thanks all those who served on the committees, and everyone who gave so willingly of their time, services and goods.

Owners of buildings which were loaned were Louis Levinson of the Carmel Garage, the Standard Oil company, M. J. Murphy, Barnett Segal, Earl Graft, Fred Weremuth and George Wagner.

Those who headed the various committees were Mrs. Robert Parrott, who had the barbecue, Mrs. Sidney Fish and Mrs. Byington Ford who had the beer garden, Mrs. E. Werner who had the minstrel show, Miss Ruth Austin of the Hula dancers, and Madame Doreen and Mrs. Ernest Bixler who told fortunes.

Mrs. Van Dyke had the Flower Booth, Mrs. Gwendolyn Stearns the children's concessions, Mrs. R. D. Girvin the Treasure Ship, which was built by Armin Hansen, Mrs. Charles Fuller the Paddle Wheel Booth, Mrs. C. J. Ryland the candy booth, Mrs. Stella Stafford Mather the hot dog booth, F. E. Bertwhistle was Wandu the Magician, Jack Dalton and Doc Staniford with all their prize fighters, Robert Leidig and all the assistants of these.

Hugh Comstock did the building necessary, the Del Monte Properties Company loaned many things, Monterey merchants gave generously of their merchandise, while the Eleventh Cavalry band and the American Legion corps were a big part of the attraction.

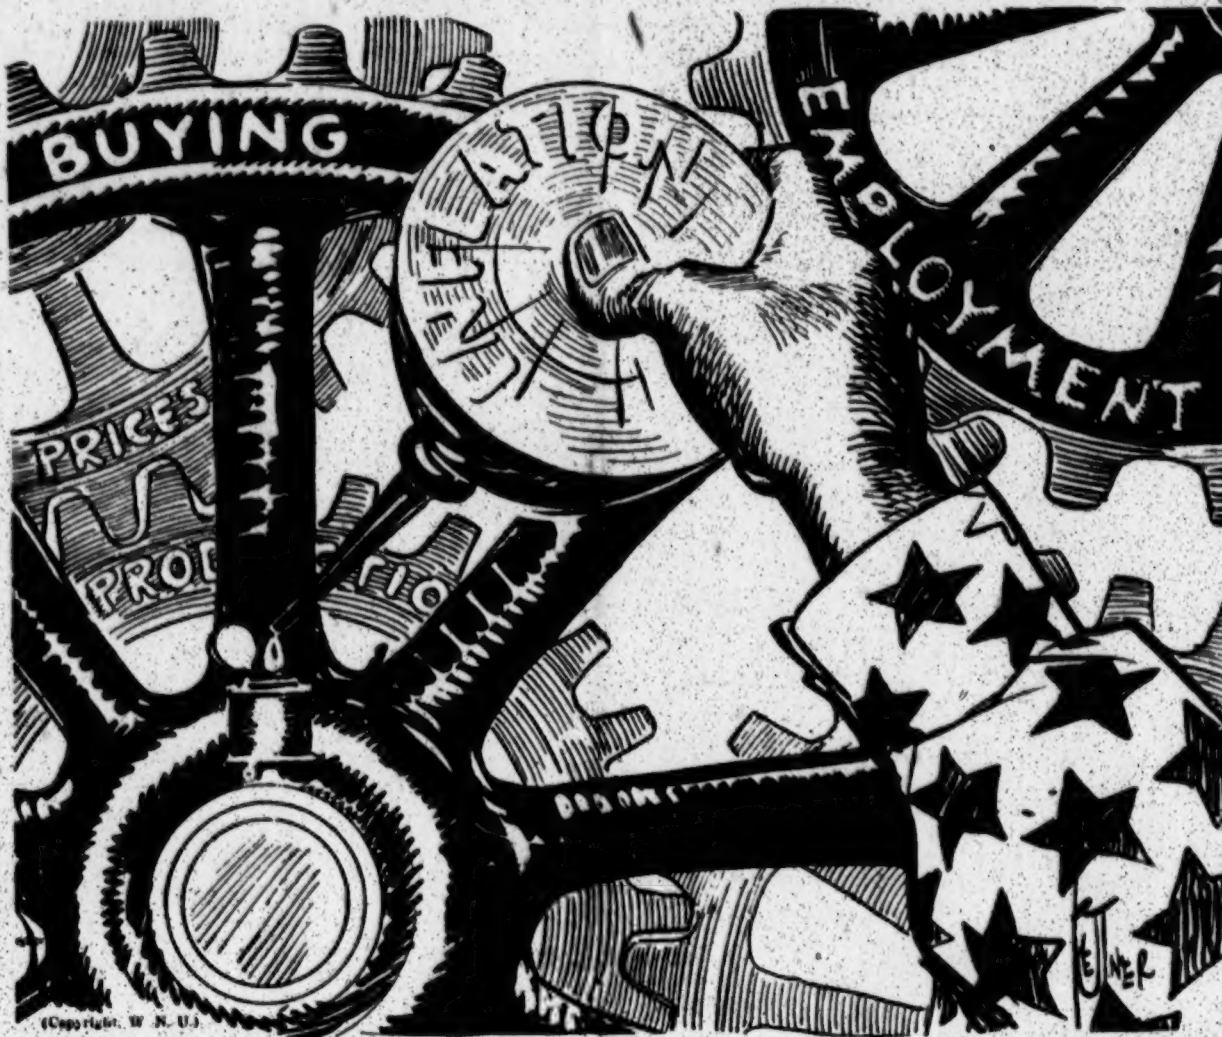

Miss M. De Neale Morgan is thanked for her untiring afternoon and evening of work, the 20-30 club, Donald Hale, Frank Sheridan, Bernard Rowntree and Philip Nesbit.

To over four hundred people the Welsh Terrier pup donated by Miss Marian Kingsland of the Del Monte Kennels was the star attraction and the pup was tended by Mrs. Seers and Miss Edwina Pinkham.

Miss Marian Pinkham had charge of the attractive cigarette girls and all of these are thanked for their efforts.

Members of the committee were Mrs. Frances T. Daniels, Robert Parrott, Kit Cooke, John Nelkirk, Hermann Crossman, J. L. Cockburn, Bob Ritchie, Mrs. Robert Stanton and Major Charles Shepherd.

AUTOMOBILES COLLIDE; WOMAN IS INJURED

Mrs. John J. Immich received cuts and bruises, had several of her front teeth knocked out and was probably injured internally when the car in which she was riding with her husband collided with one driven by Donald Calvin Deane at the corner of Eighth and Carmelo Monday evening about six o'clock.

The injured woman was taken to the hospital. Her husband brought charges against Deane for reckless driving and the case will come before Judge Wood next Monday morning at ten o'clock.

Marion C. Gale of Oakland was taken before Judge Wood charged with disturbing the peace and was given a fine of $5.

SUN EMPLOYEE WINS IN SANTA CRUZ BOAT RACE

Winning by a margin of three to three and a half miles, Henry Adamson, efficient member of Carmel Sun force, skipper of the sail boat "Corsair", came in first in the Santa Cruz boat race which was run last Sunday from Monterey to Santa Cruz, under the auspices of the Monterey Racing Committee. Other entries in the race were Frank Newkirk, with the "Eagle", Jake Madison with the "Drawback" and William Murray with "Miss Joanne II".

Adamson and his "Corsair" were in the limelight a few months ago when in an effort to make the boat lay over, the crew was tipped into the bay by a gust of wind. As a result of the publicity from the accident, the moving picture company which was working at Point Lobos used the boat in their picture.

MISS ELSA NAESS TO DANCE AT GALLERY

A demonstration of her theories of the dance will be given by Miss Elsa Naess at the Denny-Watrous gallery the evening of July 7, Friday at 8 o'clock.

There will be no admission charge to the public, though the program will be well worth seeing. Miss Naess will be assisted by a few of her pupils.

NEW ENGLISH TYPE HOUSE FOR HATTON FIELDS

Mrs. Enid La Grindeur and her daughter Miss Harriet La Grindeur of Monterey have planned a lovely English home to be built on Third Avenue in Hatton Fields. Ernest Bixler, builder, describes it as being a perfect sample of the very latest in modern home construction, and it will be a beautiful addition to that lovely section.

Miss Marie Gregory of Berkeley and Marysville spent the holidays in Carmel.

Otto W. Bardarson left Saturday on his vacation trip, driving to Washington and Oregon, where he will join Mrs. Bardarson and children.

CARMEL DROP LETTER STILL TAKES ONE CENT

Some confusion has arisen among Carmel people as to the new two-cent postage rate which went into effect July 1.

Since Carmel has no city carriers and has never had to pay but one cent for a drop letter, the new ruling does not apply in the city.

The only place the residents here will benefit from the new rate is in sending a letter on rural free delivery, from the Carmel postoffice. A letter to the Highlands which formerly took a three cent stamp now takes only a two-cent one.

Cities having city carriers will be the ones benefitted.

PACIFIC GROVE RAISES LICENSES ON CIRCULARS

Pacific Grove appears to be following along the lines of Carmel in regard to the promiscuous scattering of advertising matter over the city.

An ordinance was given its first reading before the council of that city Friday night which calls for an increase of fees and will provide the following features:

Twenty dollars per advertiser for distribution for one day; $250 per year for distribution once each week and $400 per year for distribution oftener than once each week.

Since these rates are pretty high for that kind of advertising matter, there will probably be a very few bills scattered there.

IVORY DOOR TO BE PRESENTED NEXT

The Ivory Door, which has been in rehearsal for some time will be the next production of the Forest Theatre, and will be presented in the unique setting July 14 and 15.

This play will be followed by Merchant of Venice, the first reading of which was heard Tuesday at four.

The three plays will be repeated during the season, thus saving expenses of sets and many other incidentals.

CARMEL BECOMING KNOWN AS A MUSICAL CENTER

That Carmel is rapidly becoming known as a center of musical interests is evidenced by the large number of musicians and musical devotees who are coming to Carmel.

With the arrival of Kathleen Parlow, called the "world's greatest woman violinist", came two young people who are making their place in the world of music. Little Miriam Soloveff, pupil of Miss Parlow, has come to Carmel with her mother and younger sister in order to continue with her lessons.

Betty Whitney, another young pupil of Miss Parlow, who has twice played with the Monterey Peninsula Orchestra, has come to make her home for the summer here in order to continue her work.

CHARLES GUTH INJURED WHILE CHASING SPEEDER

His hosts of friends will be sorry to learn that Charles Guth, popular traffic officer, was injured Tuesday evening by being thrown from his motorcycle.

Mr. Guth had started on Ocean avenue to follow a speeding car up the hill when he ran into a car coming on to Ocean from Mission. He was thrown across the street against a telephone pole and was picked up practically unconscious and taken to the hospital. He was found to have been cut and bruised and to have received a badly injured foot. An X-Ray was taken Wednesday morning.

CORNISH PLAYERS NEXT WEEK END AT COMMUNITY

Next Friday and Saturday, July 14th and 15th, Carmel Community Playhouse will present the famous Cornish Players of Seattle who are just finishing a successful tour which has taken them through the entire middle West. Their offering this year, "The Heathers at Home," a sparkling new comedy, has proved a hit everywhere.

"Begger on Horseback" set for the above dates, has been withdrawn for the season. Edward Kuster, its director, makes this statement, "Since the Forest theatre was unable to find any other dates for its next production than those scheduled for 'Begger on Horseback' we found it necessary to cancel that very expensive production. It would have entailed our bringing down from San Francisco nearly thirty players. Fortunately for the Playhouse, the Cornish Players and their delightful new play were available. Their work is too well known all over the country to require any testimonial from us."

With their comedy, "The Heathers at Home," the Cornish Players make their initial bow to Monterey Peninsula. They bring to Carmel the first travelling production since the memorable performance of "The Ship" by the Moroni Olsen group three years ago. They will play next Friday and Saturday nights only, with regular Playhouse prices prevailing.

FICTION MUST PROVE STRONGER THAN TRUTH

Fiction must be more plausible than truth, according to Bruce Fox, noted author-editor, who comes to Carmel each Monday to teach a class in short story writing at Denny-Watrous gallery.

Mr. Fox is never much impressed when an acquaintance greets him with the statement that he knows a corking good story, and "it's true, too." No true story, he claims, would catch an editor's eye, unless it had been "doctored" by adding the necessary drama.

BIG SUR LAND OWNERS FIGHT DRASTIC RULING

With July 31 set as the date for the hearing on property zoning on the Carmel-San Simeon highway between the Carmel river and Rat creek, below the Big Sur, the land owners in that district have been busy getting up a petition to file a protest with the planning commission against such drastic restrictions.

The property owners there indicate that they have so far never done anything to injure the value of that section and resent the implication that they would do so if not prevented by law.

It is likely that a compromise will be reached which will prevent unsightly bill boards, auto camps, and the like, and yet allow the property holders greater freedom.

HENRY COWELL AT DENNY- WATROUS SATURDAY NITE

In his next lecture, Henry Cowell will present next Saturday night at Denny-Watrous gallery music from the Kentucky and Tennessee mountains, cowboy laments and American Indian music as well as the music of Ireland.

This promises to be one of the most interesting of Mr. Cowell's talks since the people of America are always interested in the music of the mountaineers which has gone through so many ages without perceptible change. And although the cowboy songs have been heard so much over the radio, they are still popular. Mr. Cowell promises, however, to bring the songs which are seldom if ever heard through the air channels. The Indian music will always carry its romantic charm and never fails to stir the soul with its weird wallings.

If you have never heard Cowell, you should avail yourself of these two last lectures, and if you have heard him, you need not be admonished not to miss them. You will enjoy learning the whys and wherefores as well as hearing some excellent records.

ARRIVALS AT HOTEL LA RIBERA LAST WEEK

Chetwood, Miss Edyth and Eleanor Calnon, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Crippen, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Clark, Miss C. Carlson, Mrs. May Gifford, Mrs. C. E. Graham and daughters, Mrs. J. M. Hardy, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hinchaw, Mr. and Mrs. F. Loessner, Miss E. McCleave, Mrs. M. Priether and daughter, Mrs. J. Tuohy and daughters, Mrs. M. and Miss Bernice O'Connell, Mrs. G. Von Weise, Mrs. W. S. Yard, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dall, Miss Ruth Moody, Miss Marie Kane, Miss P. M. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. R. Campbell.

FOREIGN HITS AT CARMEL THEATRE

Carmel Theatre will present next a new idea in local motion picture showings by instituting the first of a series of matinee and midnight showings of foreign-language hits. On Wednesday afternoon July 12th, and again after the regular show that evening, the latest French sound film, "Paris-Mediterranee" will be on the screen, featuring Anna-belle, the present darling of Paris in the realm of musical comedy.

"Paris-Mediterranee" is hailed as the last word in lightness and brilliancy of direction and mounting. It is brought here direct from the Fifth Avenue theatre New York, after its Western preview last week in San Francisco under the auspices of the new International Theatre there. M. Max Binheim, formerly manager of the Filmart Theatre, is the director of the new organization, which proposes to bring West a series of the most notable Continental films after their showing in New York.

"Paris-Mediterranee" to be shown next Wednesday afternoon and again at midnight, is replete with music, comedy and romance and is typically French in its sparkling gaiety. Regular Carmel Theatre evening prices will prevail.

INTERESTING CARMEL

Interesting things about Carmel

So simple, so gracious and unaffected a person is Miss Kathleen Parlow, that it is difficult to remember when one is chatting with her that this is the artist who has entertained royalty all over the world with her magnificent playing, the artist who has been declared the greatest woman violinist in the world today.

Born in Canada, Miss Parlow came to San Francisco as a child. There she studied under Henry Holman, the famous violin master of the Royal College of Music in London, who was at that time conducting the San Francisco Symphony orchestra.

At barely fourteen years of age this child who showed such remarkable promise was taken to London, and from there to St. Petersburg, where she became one of the three first pupils of Leopold Auer to achieve renown musically. Her two fellow students were Zimbalist and Elman. Auer afterwards developed many other young artists, including Heifetz, Piastro, Seidel and Eddie Brown.

Miss Parlow commenced her concert work in Berlin, and concentrated widely for twenty-two or three years. She has played everywhere in Europe, made nine tours in America, and has concertized in Asia. In Holland alone, Miss Parlow gave over two hundred and seventy concerts.

When a student in Berlin at the age of seventeen, someone who had faith in her genius gave to her one of the very fine violins in the world. A Guarnerius, originally belonging to Viotti. It is listed by Hill among the finest fifty of its kind known. The violin was given to her on the understanding that it was to be hers for life, and she was to pay for it when she was able.

Miss Parlow has chosen Carmel as the ideal place for her summer rest. She will remain here for two months, until she is called back at the opening of Mills College. Two of her young pupils have moved to Carmel to be with her, while others will drive down from San Francisco each week for their lessons.

Disappointment is being felt very keenly over the fact that due to the very full program of the Music Society for the summer season, it may not be possible to hear Miss Parlow, and it will indeed be a shame, if with her right here in our midst, we will not have an opportunity of hearing her play.—M. GERTRUDE WALL'S POTTERY STUDIO

I dropped into Gertrude Wall's pottery studio the other day and found a lot of new and interesting things, though I have made several previous visits there. Mrs. Wall is working on a set of coil pattern dishes which will undoubtedly be most attractive when finished. But the most interesting thing is that she is doing her work up with Carmel by taking her sketch book and going out to get pottery motifs from the magnificent scenery of this location. These motifs are particularly to be used on tiles and panels. Mrs. Wall has some lovely finished pieces on her shelves, one of the prettiest of which is a bowl with an "abalone" glaze. The texture is so smooth and the iridescent glints are so perfect, it is almost hard to believe it is hand work. Mrs. Wall now spends a great part of her time in Carmel and is so enthused by her work that she can be found at her studio under the postoffice frequently. If you don't know how pottery is made, I am sure she will be glad to show you, since visitors are welcome.—E. F. B.

vation. "This reading is the highest I have ever recorded for this vent," Finch said. "I also noticed that the vents in this steamer are enlarging. This particular opening was drier than usual and this may account for a part of the increase in degrees. Other vents in the region, containing more water, gave a reading of 192 degrees Fahren-

SHELL SERVICE STATION WILL SELL NEW GAS

As the 1933 touring season swings into full speed ahead, the new Super-Shell gasoline will be announced of interest to every motor car owner on the Pacific Coast.

July 1 marks the introduction in the West of Super-Shell—a premium motor fuel to be sold at the price of ordinary gasolines.

"The new Super-Shell makes its bow just in time for local motorists to take advantage of it on their vacation trips," says A. W. McEntire, Shell Service agent here.

"Although a product of the West, this fuel has already been tried out in the East. Actually millions of gallons were bought at premium prices in metropolitan centers on the other side of the Rocky Mountains.

"Now Super-Shell is available on the Pacific Coast at the same premium price, thereby making possible the saving of several cents a gallon on the vacation motorist's fuel bill, at the same time giving him all around superior motor performance on the open road.

"Super-Shell fits logically into the current trend of economy. It's introduction is particularly timely, now that the encouraging national outlook is taking out onto the highways, hundreds of motorists who have stayed home for the past several seasons.

"The new gasoline is available at all Shell Service stations, from Mexico to Canada," concluded the agent.

MELODY CRUISE COMING

TO CARMEL THEATRE

Some time ago, Mrs. Fate, Lady Coincidence, the Goddess of Luck and Fickle Fortune banded together and decided to make a Linton, Ind., young man a movie star. Consequently in the course of time, Phil Harris was given the romantic lead with Charlie Ruggles and Greta Nissen in "Melody Cruise" at the Carmel Theatre, RKO Radio Pictures' musical comedy of romantic song.

Harris was beating the drums for a living in leading orchestras, packing a rich, vibrant, baritone voice in his throat without ever knowing it. One summer he went to Balboa Beach, Calif., for a vacation. His hotel manager was in a quandary, since the regular orchestra leader-singer was indisposed and could not sing. He asked Phil to substitute, and Phil sang "Old Man River." That single rendition won instant acclaim and permanent recognition.

Harris organized his own orchestra later, and radio fans know the rest. For the past four years he has sung and played nightly, except Sundays, over nation wide networks, entertaining from California's famous Coconut Grove. Recently, RKO-Radio starred him in a three-reel musical, "So this is Harris!"

During his work in "Melody Cruise," he continued playing and broadcasting from the Grove.

"Melody Cruise" cast Ruggles, Harris, Miss Nissen, June Brewster, Helen Mack, Dick Chandler and others under Mark Sandrich's direction. Melody Cruise Plays Sunday and Monday only with matinee Sunday July 9, 10.

"IMAGINARY INVALID" AT COMMUNITY PLAYHOUSE

Nobody loves a sick man—but there are few who do not enjoy laughing at him when his illness exists only in his imagination, when he becomes a tyrant in his home and the dupe of ignorant fools. Such is the character of Argan, the hero of Moliere's witty play, "The Imaginary Invalid" which is presented this week-end (July 6, 7 and 8) by the Carmel Community Players under the direction of Kit Cooke. The title role is taken by Rosslyn Jones, who delighted Forest Theatre audiences recently in "The Pirates of Penzance". This actor proves his versatile talents by making rapid-fire changes from the part of a Gilbert and Sullivan singer to a French seventeenth century comedian.

In the supporting cast "The Imaginary Invalid" are Nancy Thompson, Ruth Pinkham, Ruth Thompson, Mildred Pierson, Leon Wilson, Tom Tooker, James Darling, Philip Roamer, James Thornburn, Jimmy Darling and Norris Thompson. There will be a French ballet dance by Ruth Austin.

A new price scale will be introduced this month at the Playhouse tickets costing 50 cents, 75 cents and $1. They are on sale at the Carmel Drug Store and Staniford's Drug Store.

What Makes a Safe Tire? ... I KNOW!

ARE you willing to risk your life on advertising statements claiming blowout-proof and unblowable tires? One manufacturer gives as the reason for claiming blowout-proof tires—the use of a patented "no breaker" construction—a mail order house, high stretch "elastic" cords, etc., etc. Actually the fundamental cause of a tire blowout is the flexing of the tire which causes friction of the fibers in the cord, resulting in heat and causing the rubber to soften and the cords to deteriorate.

There is a reason why Firestone Tires have won the 500-mile Indianapolis race for 14 consecutive years, the most grueling tire test. The reason is the Firestone patented extra process of Gum-Dipping which saturates every fiber and insulates every cord with pure rubber—which gives strength to the cords and prevents friction and heat in the fibers. This year 43 drivers in this race equipped their cars with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires and not a single driver had any tire trouble.

Race drivers know why Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires are safer and not subject to blowout and will not risk their lives on ordinary tires. Your life and the lives of your family are often in danger at the high road speeds of to-day and you should not take greater risks than the race drivers who make sure that they have the best and safest tires they can buy—Firestone. Come in today. We will give you a liberal trade-in allowance for your old tires on new Firestone High Speed Tires—the safest tires in the world.
